Maggie Tidaback, Economic Development Manager, presented the following:

- The program was a leadership program to get young people engaged in civil engagement and report back to Council with what they hear from the community via meetings they will hold every few months.
- Staff would be starting with a pilot program with six students from grades 9-12.
- The application process would begin in the first quarter of 2024.

3) CALL TO THE PUBLIC- Individuals requesting to speak, please complete a Speaker Comment Card and return to the Clerk.

Call to the Public is an opportunity for the public to address the Council on any issue within the jurisdiction of the Council that is not on the agenda. Public comment is at the discretion of the Council and not required by law. Individuals are limited to speak for three (3) minutes, yielding of time will not be permitted. The total time for Call to the Public may be up to 30 minutes per meeting. Council action taken as a result of public comment will be limited to directing staff to study the matter, scheduling the matter for further consideration and decision at a later date, or responding to criticism. Disrespectful behavior will not be tolerated; this includes loud outbursts, profanity and disruptive discussions among our audience.

Les Oster presented the following:
- He had some questions about how much water the mine would use and how Road 5 would fare when it was not designed for large truck traffic. He was concerned about the blind drives, intersections, and the propensity for accidents along Highway 89. He also had concerns about the noise and blasting coming from the mine and how people were going to sleep. He was also concerned about home devaluation. He stated that there should be a noise ordinance. He wanted to know who was going to be in control of the operation, the Town or the County.

Jerri Bullins presented the following:
- She presented a picture to Council of the proposed mine from her front porch as a demonstration of how personal the issue was to her. Her address did not fall within the Town boundaries, but the address stated Chino Valley and she always considered herself a resident of Chino Valley and her daughter graduated from Chino Valley High School. When she read the article in the paper quoting the Mayor as saying it wasn’t the Town’s fight, she was deeply hurt. She understood the logic, but it still made them feel as though they didn’t matter. She argued that it was Chino Valley’s fight. She attended the meeting that included a presentation recommending increasing water and wastewater rates for high users and asking Town residents to conserve water when just across Reed Road a mine would have full access to the same water source 24/7 for 20 years with no penalty, extra cost, or liability for damages.

Guy Rogenson presented the following:
- He also had a Chino Valley address but was not a resident. He owned a rescue ranch at the base of Sullivan Buttes. The proposed mine was 15,860 feet as the crow flies from his residence. He asked what Chino Valley wanted to be. He was in a unique position as he was in that business. He knew of another municipality that was challenged with a mining operation which would have occurred in the county, but the municipality was able to block it because the operation would have had to use their roads to move the aggregate. He wanted to know who the district supervisor was. He wondered if the Town had been offered incentives by the mine company for roads. He inquired if the Town had thought about developing the area for trails like Prescott had done. He asked when Town leadership was notified of the operation. He inquired if the Economic Development Manager supported the project.

Vickie Niesley presented the following:
She was also not a Town resident. Regarding the mine, she understood that the Council’s hands were tied, but her hands were tied too, and she needed the Town’s help. She was requesting that the Council look into A.R.S. 11-812 regarding mining laws and work with legislators to work on the laws and make a difference. She stated that she wasn’t against mining, she just didn’t want it in her back yard.
